

MATH 1001: MATHEMATICS FOR LIBERAL ARTS I
WINTER 2008

Time & Location: Mondays, Wednesdays & Fridays 10:35–11:25 in Sir James Dunn 302.

Professor: Sara Faridi
Office: 314 Chase Building
Tel: (902) 494-2658
email: faridi@mathstat.dal.ca

Office Hours: Mondays 1:30–2:30 pm & Wednesdays 12:30–1:30 pm.

Course Website: Information about the course will be occasionally updated on the following website:

<http://www.mathstat.dal.ca/~faridi/teaching/1001/index.html>

Text: Nature of Mathematics, 11th edition by Karl J. Smith.

Course Overview: This course explores different mathematical topics in order to make you appreciate the beauty, and to become familiar with mathematical reasoning. This is a course that every student should be able to take and follow. The main ingredient to success in this course is attendance in classes and participation in discussions.

Homework: There will be regular homework assignments throughout the semester. The assignments will be essays or problem sets.

Midterm: Wednesday January 30 in class. If you cannot make this date, please let me know as soon as possible, so we can make alternative arrangements.

Grading: Your final grade for the course will be based 30% on your homework and classwork, 30% on your midterm, and 40% on your final exam.

Students with disabilities: Students with disabilities are encouraged to register as quickly as possible at the Student Accessibility Services if they want to receive academic accommodations. To do so please phone 494-2836, e-mail access@dal.ca, drop in at the Killam, G28 or visit their website at www.studentaccessibility.dal.ca