Abstract

In this paper, we prove that the variant semi-Fibonacci sequence satisfies a p-similarity property for a number of different primes p. The case $p = 3$ explains an empirical observation of Neil Sloane about the growth rate of the sequence. Taking $p = 3$ and $p = 5$ together, we show that the sequence is aperiodic modulo any integer $n > 2$.